28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

He is a good person. Mark's Gospel (10:17-30) gives us no reason to think otherwise or to doubt his sincerity. It seems that Jesus knows this as well, for he looks at him with love. Out of that love, Jesus offers him a further challenge: go and sell all your possessions and "come, follow me." "Shocked" and "grieving," the young man turns away.

It can be so hard for us to let go of our security, to venture into the unknown, to go where Jesus beckons. Follow you, Lord? But where? And at what cost?

Yes, the challenge is a daunting one. As Jesus tells us, however, "for God all things are possible." The prayer of Thomas Merton is one of my favorites, especially in times of uncertainty.

Fr. Matt

Prayer of Thomas Merton:

My Lord God, I have no idea where I am going. I do not see the road ahead of me. I cannot know for certain where it will end. Nor do I really know myself, and the fact that I think that I am following Your will does not mean that I am actually doing so. But I believe that the desire to please You does in fact please You. And I hope I have that desire in all that I am doing. I hope that I will never do anything apart from that desire. And I know that if I do this You will lead me by the right road though I may know nothing about it. Therefore, will I trust You always though I may seem to be lost and in the shadow of death; I will not fear, for You are ever with me, and You will never leave me to face my perils alone.
