Fr. Matt's Message - Week of October 17th, 2021

Listening to the Scriptures can be a risky activity.

Here we are, sitting in church, just trying to slow down a little bit and collect some good thoughts to help us through the week.

Then we hear something like “whoever wishes to become great among you must be your servant” and we start to think there is another way to look at our lives. Scripture and faith have a way of changing our perspective. We will ourselves to imagine a world where we really act on our belief that each one of us is treasured by God.

Church - comforting the afflicted and at times, afflicting the comfortable! I think when church becomes disturbing, there is room for the Holy Spirit to do the work of transformation in us, the Body of Christ. Our ears and our hearts have been opened to hear the challenges, and we struggle to respond.

We are responsible to help spread the message found in those disturbing, uncomfortable Scriptures. We don't have to be experts in evangelization - we are all simply called to work with our sisters and brothers to build up the kingdom of God. We start right here in this place by proclaiming and living God's inclusive love!

Dean Atkinson and Joe Klecha (many of you know him as “Papa Joe”) have been living and proclaiming God's inclusive love as MHR parishioners for a very long time. This Sunday we have the opportunity to bless them and bid them a very fond “see you later” as they prepare to move back East to be close to family. They will be greatly missed. Please join us after the 10:00 Mass for a reception and the opportunity to say “Thank you!”

See you soon!
With love and prayers,
Fr. Matt

Centering Prayer

My house having burned to the ground, I can now see the moon— Contemplative Seeing in an Age of Obscurity

Speaker: Michelle Gorman, RSM

Over the past year and a half, humans have been assaulted with a global pandemic, accelerated impacts of climate events— fires, floods, and earthquakes to name just a few. With such intense traumatic events, is it even possible to look beyond the physical and spiritual traumas of our lives and turn our gaze to the immensity of the mystery and the beauty that can unfold from engaging with our sufferings?

The cryptic line by 17th century Japanese poet, Mizuta Masahide, suggests that indeed sometimes we have to lose everything before we come to our senses and realize what is important for true happiness in life

Sister Michelle will engage us in contemplative seeing processes to help us navigate these days when so much uncertainty prevails. Drawing from the Wisdom of the “new cosmology” and the writings of the Quaker, Thomas R. Kelly, Michelle hopes to inspire and encourage participants into renewed energy for trust and love as we travel this immense journey of life together.

Sr. Michelle Gorman, RSM, left Ireland in 1971 to enter the Sisters of Mercy in Auburn, CA. She's been privileged to serve in a number of ministries, including education, and new membership, plus leadership of the Auburn Regional Community and West Midwest Community.

Michelle recently completed her spiritual direction ministry due to an appointment as Institute Minister by her Sisters of Mercy Institute Leadership Team. She will continue as Chaplain to the California State Senate.
